

Pump more amps into your production.

NTN's commitment to quality bearing products represents the gold standard in the industry. As the first of only two bearing manufacturers to ever win the prestigious Deming Prize for global quality management, it's no surprise NTN has been the OEM choice for nearly 75 years in the electric motor field. From smaller, low horsepower applications to giant wind turbines to gearboxes, NTN offers the world-class technical support and vast product range needed to satisfy the requirements of any design.

Premier quality trusted by OEMs.

As an industry leader, NTN is uniquely positioned to offer a full breadth of OE-quality bearings for the electric motor industry. To ensure higher consistency between production lots, NTN designs and produces our own manufacturing equipment paired with in-line, quality control tracking systems that measure every bearing. This allows us to verify that each of our products far exceed the specified industry requirements.
